The rectangles and letter outlines should have the same stroke width per column